Buckeye Woodturners Meeting
Camp Y-Noah
December 7, 2019

*Respectfully submitted,
Mark Stransky*

President Tom Nellis welcomed all to the December 7, 2019 meeting of the Buckeye Woodworkers and Woodturners. The meeting was held at Camp Y-Noah in Clinton, Ohio. There were 4 guests in attendance. Today's demonstration will have four club members simultaneously demonstrating making Christmas ornaments and pens.

Tom began by announcing that Brent Wells, George Barlow, Mark Stransky and Dirk Falther are the club officers for next year.

Tom asked for suggestions on what to do with the treadle lathe that was made by club members as a collaborative project. The lathe is currently stored in a member's shop. Several suggestions were made including donating it to John C. Campbell Folk School, Sauder Village and having a raffle as a fund raiser. The Folk School and Sauder Village will be contacted to determine if there is any interest. It was also noted that the two spinning wheels that were also made as a club commemorative project are available.

Tom let all know that the booth at the Hartville Hardware tool sale was busy through both days of the sale. He also passed on that the club discount at Hartville Tool and the hardware store is still being reviewed.

Tom announced that the mentor program is being restarted. Jack Boggio will be recruiting members to participate. If you are interested in being a mentor, contact Jack. All mentors will be listed on the club web site and will show area of expertise and contact information.

There will be a silent auction fund raising event during today's meeting. There are several unique pieces to bid on. Winning bids will be announced before the meeting ends.

Tom concluded his opening remarks by asking for demonstration suggestions for the coming year. If any club member is willing to do a demonstration should that person should also contact Tom. At present, Tom is working on getting one professional on schedule for late summer, January and February are tentatively scheduled, the June picnic and July auction are on the club calendar. Several other suggestions were made for additional demonstrations.

Mark Stransky announced that those who made pens for the Pens For Troops event should turn in their pens today. This was a very successful program this year as club members volunteered to make 200 pens. Participants shown below are Gayle Seymour, Richard Rohr, Jeff Haynam, Norm Armentrout, Walt Eversole, Brent Wells, Dave Wells, Mark Stransky, Dave Brobeck, Paul Crouse, Bill Gougler, Ben Fix, Dale DeHoff and Keith Bellamy. Tom Nellis, Darrell Dube and David Goldman are not pictured. Thanks to all for this worthy effort.

Bill Stone let all members present know that he still had a few pieces of engineered lumber cut offs available to anyone who wanted them. Bill said that he will have more available in the spring.

One member announced that there was a sycamore tree that was going to be trimmed up and that wood will be available to anyone who wanted.

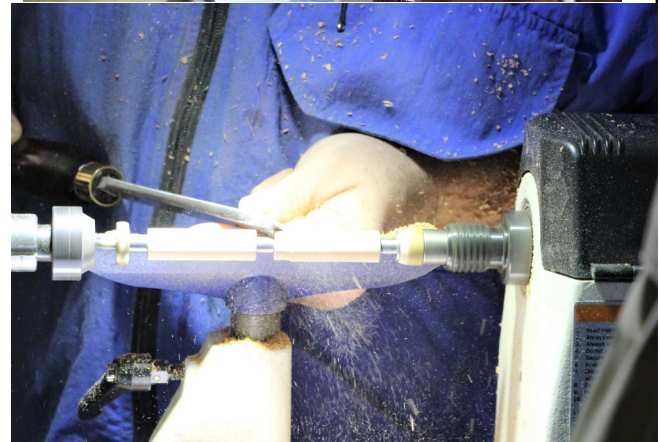

The winner of the Show and Tell drawing was Marty Chapman who showed two large hollow form vases. The name tag winner was Dave Brobeck.

After the business meeting concluded and the monthly raffle was complete, Jack Boggio, Bill Gougler and Richard Rohr demonstrated making Christmas ornaments and Brent Wells demonstrated pen making.
